

What is the pre-internship in my opinion

After participating in pre-internship activities we also learned that we should prepare and learn what we should do before going out to actually work. Including writing a Super Resume that includes teaching. Using such information to find a line of work that is in line with all of what we have studied, it will give you guidelines for finding work for internships. After trying out the Super Resume recommended in the activity, there were actually many types of jobs submitted. A lot like software tester, ios engineer intern, web designer, graphic design, officer support business consultant. All of the above are submitted as internships, which shows that the activities show that what is actually used can be used. Preparation before going for an internship is when we prepare and plan for a job and prepare to go into various environments that are suitable for us in order to gain various experiences through internships from that company that we choose.

How do you prepare yourself before an intership?

I follow the activities and study information from Internship MFU that gives advice to students on preparing for activities such as taking exams and watching videos on the website. <https://pre-internship.mfu.ac.th> which has activity topics along with videos to introduce various topics. The first step is for us to prepare ourselves with the topics Teamwork Effectiveness, Critical Thinking, Adaptability, Positive Communication, Digital Literacy that help us learn how we should develop ourselves when we have to go for an internship. And being with a large group of people at work, what should we do in various events that may occur, both good and bad, so that we can decide on various events and there is also a second step with Inspiration for Working & Internship Clinic, Pre-meeting and Introduction to Internship, CV & Resume Writing, Appropriate problem-solving techniques, International internship, Interns coaching getting the job, Fundamental of Microsoft Office for working, Aviation Industry, Hotel Industry, in various sections will be introduced on that topic using an explanatory video.
