

What is the pre-internship in your opinion?

In my opinion, pre-internship is an important part of learning before starting to work. But also understand that Internships will give you good and bad experiences you don't want to experience. But I think that I will be able to cope and apply it when I start working. The important part of the internship that I consider the most important is the company we choose because if we choose a good one, The environment It must be good. The people you will intern with may be able to help you improve or become better. And finally, the ultimate goal of the internship is for me to be able to work there after the internship. Therefore, I consider the internship location the most important for me.

How do you prepare yourself before an internship?

My preparation right now is to find an internship. Because like I said above, internships are very important to me. But of course, I'm still improving myself by bringing in old projects. Things that were done in Years 1-2 were brought back to be reworked to include in the work. Or will it be the part where you have to meet people at the new internship location? For this part, I am quite confident that I can work with others without any problems and believe that I can do it well. But what I think is not well prepared is Preparing for a bad internship experience. If you meet a bad person I'm still not sure how much I can take.
